Report of Guest Lecture on "IKIGAI & Leadership Skills" held on 21st December, 2022

Literary Club of Management Education and Research Institute organized a two hours seminar on IKIGAI and Leadership Skills on December 21, 2022 in 4th floor seminar hall for the students of BBA and MBA. The seminar focused on the how to define the purpose of our life by using the popular Japanese Technique IKIGAI and how to develop good leadership skills.

The highlight of the workshop was the Ikegai session conducted by Mr. Debojit Singh, founder of Crack ED, an expert in holistic well-being. Ikegai, a Japanese concept, revolves around finding one's true purpose in life. Mr. Singh's session guided participants in discovering their passions, strengths, and areas of fulfillment. Attendees were encouraged to align their personal and professional pursuits with their inner values and interests, fostering a sense of purpose and satisfaction

Mr. Debojit discussed about the 4 Golden question which comes Under IKIGAI, which helps a person to determine what is their purpose of life. He discussed about each question in very detail. He said that you are good at what you doing when others are praising you for the work, You'll not be good at what you are doing on day 1. If you love doing what you do, It is easy to keep at it and eventually you He talked about how leadership give the privilege to elevate the lives of people. He further talked about people management that, a leader manages things but he cannot and does not manage a person, he leads a person. Leaders should actually care about each person on their team, they should always give attention to get attention if they want. It is very much important to have the feeling of togetherness among the team members, team feeling, demonstrated caring, Egalitarian Treatment etc. He mentioned about the Golden Circle which contains WHY, HOW & WHAT. He said that finding the why of yours is very important, it should be answered because after that your How and What will eventually be answered. If the purpose of the work, i.e. WHY do you want to do something is clear to you, you will find automatically find HOW you can do it and WHAT exactly you need to do it. Don't do things just because others are doing it, do it because you want to do it. Students participated were around 250.

Then he talked about Self leadership that before leading others you should lead yourself. It included three aspects and those are Self awareness in which you check your own character first before doing it for others, Self Reflection in which he asked the students to always ask themselves how did they do, at the end of the day and last Self Regulation i.e. Decide what you want to have and then be self disciplined to do it.

This event bestow valuable insights and knowledge about entrepreneurship that aimed at helping young entrepreneurs to put their ideas into action, bring an attitudinal and behavioral change in the target group and build their personal entrepreneurial skills. This forum is to connect the innovators and startups with the Ministry of MSME. It also aims to creating need-based, high-impact innovations, along with building confidence of startups through advice and guidance of officials and domain experts.

Before the event took a formal start, the traditional ceremony as a tribute was given to Maa Saraswati. Light is a symbol of brightness and prosperity as sunlight expels the darkness of night by bringing prosperity and happiness in our lives. To make this event a blessed one, we must invoke goddess Saraswati by lighting the lamp of knowledge and wisdom along with SARASWATI VANDANA. All the dignitaries were requested to do lamp lighting ceremony.

Followed by the National Anthem as it makes all proud, unifies, reminds of heritage, promotes patriotism and gives a sense of direction.

As per the tradition, the program starts with MERI Code of Conduct which was presented by Prof. (Dr.) Tapash Dey Sir.

Flowers are the bounty of nature which express tenderness of human emotions. According to the tradition of Indian custom, guests are welcomed with the saplings as an expression of our affection and reverence.

Prof. Dr. U.K. Neogi Sir addressed the audience and briefly explained about entrepreneurship and other related topics.

Dr. Anjali Nigam Ma'am told that the institution has launched MERI Start-up Hub. The hub for nurturing Innovative Minds with an overall objective to establish practical application of knowledge to facilitate entrepreneurship, and to facilitate all aspiring entrepreneurs and innovators to put their innovative ideas into practice by gaining holistic working understanding & learning of the entire gamut of the startup ecosystem and an insight into all aspects of 'making your innovation market ready.'

Smt. S. Sakthi Rani Ma'am talked about the objectives such as: facilitate access to credit for MSMEs & small businesses to meet their varied financial requirements across the business life cycle and provide financial services, promote holistic development of the MSME sector & small businesses in the state by providing institutional support, Enable MSMEs for scaling up their technology and product quality levels, etc.

Dr. RK Bharti Sir was the chief guest for the program. He started with a small story through which he explained that one should enter into field with full knowledge like what are its pros and cons, how to deal with a particular situation, one should be a good decision maker, and many other things.

Shri Neeraj Sharma Sir told audience about the different schemes offered by the Ministry of India. The schemes were: Prime Minister Employee Generation Programme, International Cooperation Scheme, National SC-ST Hub, A Scheme for Promoting Innovation, rural Industry and Entrepreneurship and link was shared with the students to have more information about the same.

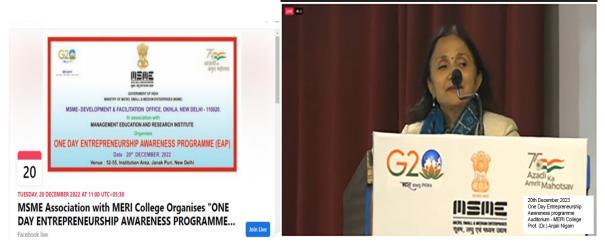

Sh. Vinit Kashyap Sir, told their mission and vision of the NSIC. Also, marketing has been identified as one of the most important tool for business development. It is critical for the growth and survival of MSMEs in today's intensely competitive market. NSIC acts as a facilitator and has devised a number of schemes to support enterprises in their marketing efforts, both domestic and foreign markets.

Bank's lending to the Micro and Small enterprises engaged in the manufacture or production of goods specified in the first schedule to the Industries Act, 1951 and notified by the Government from time to time is reckoned for priority sector advances. However, bank loans up to Rs.5 crore per borrower / unit to Micro and Small Enterprises engaged in providing or rendering of services and defined in terms of investment in equipment under MSMED Act, 2006 are eligible to be reckoned for priority sector advances. Lending to Medium enterprises is not eligible to be included for the purpose of computation of priority sector lending explained by Sh. Vinit Kashyap Sir. A great power dose, was given by Mrs. Vandana Ma'am. She told her entire journey and gave a motivation to all the students. She had a very interactive session with students as well.

Report Special Lecture on "Increasing the efficiency of (Public) Policies through Behavioral Interventions held on 23rd November, 2022

It's frequently essential to alter behavior to address societal issues. We must consider how we can encourage individuals to save more and spend less if we want them to become indebted less frequently. Make sure individuals exercise more and eat less sugar and fat if we want them to be healthier. Finding strategies to encourage students to visit school is necessary if we want to lower student absenteeism. Hence, Behavioral-based intervention in designing public policies has become an important field of study in recent years with empirical studies devoted to analyzing how to design better policies from the fields of behavioral economics, social psychology, sociology, anthropology, economy, political science, design (human-centered design and design thinking), or effective state and non-state bureaucracies throughout the world. Therefore, Management Education and Research Institute and Guru Gobind Indraprastha University, New Delhi organized a "Special Lecture on Increasing the Efficiency of Public Policies through Behavioral Interventions" jointly on 23rd November 2022 to apprise students about the practical and theoretical implications of behavioral-based intervention in designing public policies.

Swati Chawla, Assistant Professor — Management and Prog. Coordinator BCOM(H), delivered the inaugural address and National Anthem was played as a tribute to the Nation as it makes us proud, unifies us, reminds us of our heritage, promotes patriotism and gives us a sense of direction. Event: Book Launch

Date: 27th September 2022 Timing: 10:30AM Onwards

Venue: Auditorium, MERI College

A Mega Event of Book Launch was organized by the Literary Club of MERI College. The Book titled MentoMorphosis", authored by Dr. Akash Khurana, who is a mentor, actor, filmmaker, screenwriter and an author too. This book is a fascinating account of Dr. Akash Khurana's journey that emphasises the transformation that mentorship can bring about in a person's life. Morphosis refers to a change in the appearance of someone or something. Dr. Akash Khurana thinks that cultivating a passion for creativity releases the leader in you and is a preeminent ladder to excellence based on his personal experiences in management, academia, journalism, and the performing arts. The book details the various mentorships we receive and how they affect us on different levels. The transformational journey of a student's life is accurately depicted in the book, as is the crucial function it plays in connecting them with the most suitable mentors who can lead us as Lord Krishna instructed Arjuna.

Mr. Dennis Campbell (Senior General Manager-PR Professional), Mr. Abhishek Bose (Senior Manager, Corporate Communication, Stanza Living), Mr. Anuj Bakshi (Senior Account Manager, Adfactors PR), Ms. Poulmoni Roy (Lead Corporate Communication, OPPO India) were the four

panellists who enlightened the topic very well in front of viewers. Head of Department Prof. (Dr.) Dilip Kumar started the webinar with the Gayatri Mantra Shloka and introduced the session to all and greeted everyone along with Assistant Professor Ms. Nivedita Sharma who was in charge of this webinar. Mr. Dennis started first with the introduction of PR. He explained very well all the points of Public Relation and engagement of the audience in this field especially in a crisis situation and also explained the difference between advertising and PR. Then Mr. Abhishek explained corporate communication and how it works relating it with the PR field in a scientific logical manner. Being a professional manager in corporate communication he delivered his message that how the market plays a role in a crisis situation in a practically clear manner. Third Panelists Mr. Anuj talked about how lockdown and present situation have an impact on job scenario in the PR industry and shared about the linear approach in the environment after that its insights and then solutions of modern hurdles arises. Later, Dr. Dilip Kumar shifted it to Ms. Poulmoni by chanting a shloka on women empowerment. She gave an overview of the working of the media industry post-COVID era. She spotted that PR doesn't get much affected due to crisis, in fact, it became more digitalized which gave it more profit of targeting the audience because everyone has smartphones in hand. Viewers get to know that the corporate team can not reach physically every time that's why they hire the PR agencies from different regions to disseminate the information. Digital media was very important before the arrival of COVID but it made a more important place during this crisis. According to a survey regarding Internet and Mobile Associations of India, Rural India has got actually more users than the urban part. This happened for the first time which resulted more beneficial to the digital media and PR Industry. Every expert explained the topic very well with respect to their field, how they managed the work during the crisis. More than 350 registrations were done and the reach was 10,950 and 397 comments and 28 shares which meant it was a successfully conducted webinar and viewers

Report on Quiz competition on 11-04-2020

The quiz can be described as a type of game where competitors try their best to answer the questions in less time. Quiz competition is to test the knowledge of students apart from studies like general affairs, current affairs, history and etc.

The quiz competitions are organised to revamp the education system and provide students with a break from regular classroom learning. Quizzes are interactive platforms where students participate not only to win a prize or become famous but also to absorb knowledge, seek opportunities to flourish outside of the classroom, and safeguard their future. Students develop the habit of inventive learning early on since questions are based off-syllabus and demand critical thinking and thorough study. Students must form teams to participate in quizzes, which allows them to practice their collaboration skills. In the view of the importance of enhancing creative thinking and testing deep knowledge in students. The competition began at 12:30PM in Room 104 and ended at 2:30PM. Total teams participated were 12 each consisting of 3 team members. The external judge was Dr.Sumit.
